

I am writing to say that I would be very upset if LPFM regulatory changes resulted in the loss of the FM translators currently used by K-LOVE. I get music and other valuable programming from K-LOVE that I doubt would be available from a local broadcast. The other station I listen to is NPR on WUNC, which also has translators for the rest of the state to listen to. K-LOVE and WUNC are the only stations I listen to, and the service of both to my area and state are at risk with these changes.

Sincerely,
Jim Pendergraft
